

HISTORIC ATTACK ON DIEPPE FAILED AS GREAT SUCCESS

Secrets of German Coastal Defenses Studied By Allies

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Secrets of Germany's anti-invasion coastal defenses were studied by the Allied command today amid predictions that titanic new blows would fall soon upon the jittery Nazis in the wake of yesterday's history-making attack on Dieppe, France.

Informed London quarters declared probably one-third of Adolf Hitler's fighter plane strength in western Europe had been destroyed during the nine-hour assault.

Dieppe itself, once a famous spa, transformed by the Germans into a bastion of anti-aircraft defense, was pictured as lying in charred, shell-torn ruins.

Eyewitness stories reaching Vichy by telephone said fierce hand-to-hand fighting raged in the streets of flaming Dieppe under a rain of British artillery fire.

Civilian estimates said about 10,000 Allied raiders, striking in a huge wave along 12 miles of the Dieppe coastline, landed in 300 to 400 small boats and self-propelled tank scoops on the fortified beaches while 13 British warships hurled shells into the Nazi defenses.

The Berlin radio claimed that 36 transports stood by in reserve "to get into action as soon as the first landing wave had succeeded in forming a bridgehead."

Descriptions reaching Vichy said Allied beaching parties, including American Rangers, fought through barbed-wire entanglements on shore, drove the Germans back into the low part of Dieppe and forced an entry into the city.

The Commandos, it was said, occupied part of the lower quarter of the city while the tanks, held back by the anti-tank barriers which there was no time to destroy, poured cannon fire into the German ranks.

About 30 civilians were reported killed.

In the streets, French women nurses took care of the wounded as the battle raged.

British accounts listed 91 German planes definitely destroyed and 100 others shot down or damaged. The RAF lost 98 planes out of 1,000 aircraft in action, but 20 of the RAF pilots shot down were known to be safe.

The British discounted German claims that the Germans had beaten off the attack by paint-splashed Commandos of the four United Nations—American Rangers, Canadians, British and fighting French—without calling up reinforcements. (Turn to Page Six)

BULLETINS

BULLETIN
Washington, Aug. 20.—(P)—Wendell L. Willkie announced today that he would leave in about three weeks for the Near East to Russia on a trip to "perform certain services for the government."

Newark, N. J., Aug. 20.—(P)—Federal Judge William F. Smith directed today a defense motion for Herbert Karl Friedrich Bahr, who is on trial on a charge of conspiracy to commit espionage.

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 20.—(P)—Defense Attorney James W. Carver asserted today that a colleague's attack upon the Rev. Aleksis Pelypenko, the government's star witness in the espionage conspiracy trial of the Rev. Kurt E. S. Molzahn, "did not go far enough."

Moscow, Aug. 20.—(P)—The Russian air raid two nights ago on the German Baltic coast cities of Königsberg, Danzig and Tilsit was described today by the Russian army newspaper Red Star as one of the greatest mass operations of the Red air force.

Boston, Aug. 20.—(P)—Production of war materials proceeded without let-up today at the S. A. C. Machine Company plant after the army took possession because of the management's refusal to comply with a war labor board directive. (Turn to Page Eleven)

Ten Pennsylvanians in Midst Of Fighting Across Channel

BULLETIN
London, Aug. 20.—(P)—Eight Spitfires flown by United States pilots were lost in the Dieppe air actions, but the pilots of three are safe, United States army headquarters announced tonight.

London, Aug. 20.—(P)—When Yankee pilots were right in there fighting—ten of them. All planes returned from the "unusually successful raid," headquarters here announced. Pennsylvania participants were:

Serg. Zane Gennill of St. Clair, Pa.; Serg. Samuel Naydock of Frookville, Pa.; Lieut. Donald B. Stocum of Coudersport, Lieut. Bernard B. Goncher of Johnstown, Sergeant Wilmer Narverson of Philadelphia, Lieut. Norbert W. (Turn to Page Eleven)

BRAZIL HOLDS MANY NAZIS AS HOSTAGES

All Germans Excepting Diplomats Embarked on Exchange Ships Are Ordered Confined

SIXTH BOAT TORPEDOED

Rio de Janeiro, Aug. 20.—(P)—All Germans except diplomats who had embarked on the exchange ships Bage and Cuyaba were ordered held as hostages today by President Getulio Vargas shortly after the sinking of the sixth Brazilian ship in recent days was announced.

The ships already were filled with German nationals, ready to sail for Lisbon in exchange for Brazilian nationals. The voyages had been postponed earlier in the week when a crisis arose over the sinking of five Brazilian ships by Axis submarines, claiming the lives of perhaps 600 persons including Brazilian troops.

The sixth u-boat victim, announced today, was the coastal steamer Jacy.

An official statement said President Vargas had decided that the "departure of Germans who had exercised any diplomatic functions here should be permitted; others must remain as hostages for our countrymen held at Compiègne."

(The Germans have a concentration camp at Compiègne, near Paris, for interned Brazilians and other Americans arrested in occupied France.)

While Brazilian authorities indicated this nation's intention of battling Axis aggression but refraining from an outright declaration of war, a general roundup of spy suspects was pressed in coastal cities.

"Brazilians will know how to fight decisively and with or without arms will know how to die for Brazil," Air Minister Joaquim Salgado told an audience clamoring for action even as the nation's warships and planes combed the sea for raiders which have sunk five ships in recent days with a possible loss of more than 600 lives.

Salgado said that silence on the government's plans was necessary for the moment in order not to tip its hand to the Axis, but it appeared unlikely that President Getulio Vargas would decide in favor of an open war declaration.

Apparently representative of the general attitude was the statement of the well-informed Editor J. S. Maciel, Jr., who said that war actually exists already and there is no need of talking about a declaration.

(The Chilean government—the only American nation besides Argentina still maintaining relations with the Axis—sent an energetic protest to Germany last night against the sinking of Brazilian ships, which it said was contrary to the laws and practices of warfare.)

Army Submits A Report On Commissions

Washington, Aug. 20.—(P)—The war department has informed congress that 18,967 civilians with no previous experience as military officers were granted army commissions ranging from second lieutenant to colonel during the 60 days beginning June 1.

The navy has submitted a similar report for the same period, but attaches of the house navy committee have declined to make it public in the absence of Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.).

These are the first of a series of bi-monthly reports required from the army and navy under a law enacted June 16 growing out of charges by Rep. Faddis (D-Pa.) that army commissions were being granted promiscuously to unqualified civilians.

On this point, Secretary of War Stimson wrote Vice President Wallace and Speaker Rayburn: "It may be of interest to note (Turn to Page Eleven)

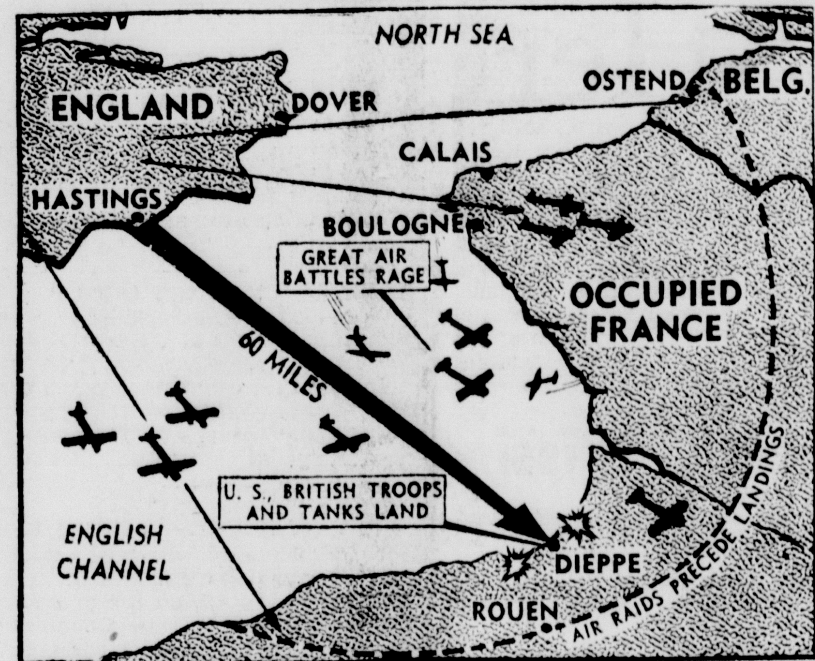

F. B. I. STRIKES AT WHITE SLAVE RING

Philadelphia, Aug. 20.—(P)—F. B. I. agents struck today against a white slave ring which they said was plotting to establish houses of prostitution near U. S. army camps.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Edward A. Kallick said a roundup was under way following the arrest of a Reading man described as overlord of the ring.

Mike Fischetti, 37, was held in $15,000 bail yesterday after arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Norman J. Griffin on a charge of violating the federal white slave law.

Three Probable Victories Are Scored by U. S. Fighter Pilots

Veteran RAF Fliers Full of Praise for Behavior of Yankee Bombers

OUTSTANDING FEATS

BY WES GALLAGHER
With the United States Army Forces in Britain, Aug. 20.—(P)—While flying fortresses of the United States army were knocking out the largest German fighter field in the Dieppe area yesterday, United States fighter pilots scored three probable victories in one of the war's biggest air shows.

Altogether the Allies made 2,500 sorties from dawn to dusk yesterday. (In aviation terms, a sortie is one flight by one plane.)

The American fighter pilots came home with sore necks and experience crowded into one day which might have taken weeks of non-combatant training to match. They made four trips across the channel, spending more than six hours in the air, much of that time in combat.

Veteran RAF fliers were full of praise for the behavior of the American pilots under fire in a battle which the British agreed "far exceeded any show put on in this war by the fighter command, even including the dark days in the battle of Britain."

Captain Frank Hill, 23, of Hillsdale, N. J., shot down a Focke-Wulf 190, Germany's fast new fighter, for the first American fighter victory of the war but did not see it crash and so claimed only a "probable." The names of the other two pilots claiming "probables" were not immediately available.

One of the outstanding feats of the entire Dieppe air operations was the fortress attack on the key German airfield at Abbeville, 38 miles from Dieppe. A British pilot who flew in one of the escorting Spitfires described the assault as "simply incredible."

"We were flying top cover (in the highest layer of the covering planes) and could see the whole show," the pilot said.

"Those fortress fellows hit everything on that airfield. Their bombs fell perfectly, from a great height, directly on the hangars, buildings and key spots, with only one stick wide, and that hit a runway."

"I didn't think they could do it. It was better bombing than anything I've seen in this war, even by planes flying thousands of feet lower."

Major Fred M. Dean, 25, of Peoria, Ill., was one of the pilots. (Turn to Page Six)

Sailor Is Held As Girl Slayer

Philadelphia, Aug. 20.—(P)—Police said today the arrest of a discharged sailor had given them the key to the slaying of a 23-year-old Bethlehem girl more than a year ago in a cheap Philadelphia rooming house.

The victim, attractive, blonde Helen Kukor, was strangled to death with her brassiere August 2 of last year.

Inspector of Detectives George Richardson said Richard Leroy, 24, who was discharged from the U. S. Navy last February, had admitted the slaying. Leroy is being held in New York without bail on a technical charge of being a fugitive. An extradition hearing to bring him to Philadelphia is scheduled for the next session of Queens county court.

Richardson said Leroy also made a statement connecting him with the slaying of a girl in Key West, Fla., six months before Miss Kukor's nude body was found on the floor of her room here. The inspector gave no other details of the Florida death.

A tip from a former room mate of Miss Kukor led to Leroy's arrest in New York yesterday.

NEW POLICY TO PREVENT SLOWDOWNS

Production Chief Plans to Give Directors Power to Issue "Quickies" On Priority Ratings

MATERIALS MUST MOVE

BY STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, Aug. 20.—(P)—Prompt action to forestall any production slowdowns due to lack of materials appeared imminent today in consonance with Donald M. Nelson's new "get tough" policy.

The production chief was expected to give his regional directors throughout the country power to issue "quickie" priority ratings to provide needed small quantities by materials or parts.

Thus holders of war contracts threatened with stoppage or curtailment of output because of an interruption in the flow of materials or a breakdown of machinery, could obtain readily the materials needed to keep going.

Informed officials who asked not to be quoted by name said such a plan, if adopted, undoubtedly would put strict limits on the amount of materials at the disposal of the regional officers.

Official Washington watchers closely for more drastic action from Nelson, who yesterday made it clear that he had taken his gloves off for a finish fight on the question of his administration of the war effort.

"From now on anyone who crosses my path is going to have his head taken off," he said in discussing statements from congressional and other sources that the War Production Board had mis-handled its jobs.

Two reports current in Washington were believed to have nettled the production chief particularly. One was the oft-published theme that the army was ready and willing to take over control of the wartime industrial economy when and if civilian authority faltered. The other was that Nelson was too lenient with his own subordinates.

THREE PAPERS GIVEN CLEAN BILL OF HEALTH

Chicago, Aug. 20.—(P)—The Chicago Tribune, the New York Daily News and the Washington Times Herald legally had a clean bill of health today after a federal grand jury investigation of their publication on June 7 of allegedly confidential naval information.

A statement by William D. Mitchell, special assistant to the attorney general, at conclusion of the five-day inquiry said:

"The grand jury considering the matter of the publication on June 7 in the Chicago Tribune and other newspapers of an article relating to the Japanese fleet in the Midway battle, has decided that no indictment should be returned."

HISTORIC ENGINES ON WAY TO BE SCRAPPED

Pocatello, Idaho, Aug. 20.—(P)—Two locomotive giants of the 1870's started their last trip today to war industry's melting pots.

The Union Pacific's No. 11 and No. 947, preserved on the campus of the University of Idaho, southern branch, were returned to the railroad yesterday for conversion into 140 tons of scrap metal.

Veterans Dim Merry-making

Pittsburgh, Aug. 20.—(P)—Merry-making was dimmed by the seriousness of a world at war as the annual three-day convention of the state American Legion opened in this arsenal of democracy today.

Speeches by officials of the organization and others were expected to reflect the sober atmosphere of the Legion's first wartime convocation.

As delegates gathered yesterday the topic on every side was the thrust at Germany in the Commando-type raids on France. Some of the Legionnaires who fought in France a quarter of a century ago proudly declared their sons were "over there."

Business sessions were scheduled today tomorrow and Saturday morning. Saturday afternoon will be given over to the annual parade. The Forty and Eight, the Legion's fun-loving organization, will hold its parade and "wreck" tonight.

A banquet was held last night for the 36 Pennsylvania district commanders with National Commander Lynn F. Stambaugh as principal speaker.

Two on Grays May Try Out With Pirates

Pittsburgh, Aug. 20.—(P)—Headquarters of the Pittsburgh Pirates disclosed today that Club President Bill Benswanger had authorized the sports writer of a negro newspaper to pick some negro baseball candidates who might be considered by the Pirates.

The sports writer, Wendell Smith of the Pittsburgh Courier, said he had suggested Catcher Josh Gibson and Outfielder Sammy Bankhead of the Homestead (Pa.) Grays, and Shortstop Willie Wells and Pitcher Leon Day of the Newark Eagles.

Battle Over Farm Prices Is Impending

Appeal by Wickard For Amendment to Control Law Revives Dispute

STAND IS CHALLENGED

BY OVID A. MARTIN
Washington, Aug. 20.—(P)—A new battle over farm prices appeared to be in the making today following an appeal by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard for an amendment to the price control law to permit lower ceilings on agricultural products.

Wickard, reversing his previous position, urged farmers in a radio address last night to forego a provision in the price law prohibiting ceilings of less than 110 per cent of parity. (Parity prices are designed to give farm products purchasing power equivalent to that of a base period, usually 1909-14.)

The secretary's new stand was quickly challenged by Chairman Fulmer (D-SC) of the house agriculture committee, who said:

"Friends of the farmers will oppose any such change in the price law. Mr. Wickard and Mr. Henderson (Price Administrator Leon Henderson) would do farmers, consumers and the nation a real service if they would do something about cutting down on the margins and profits that middlemen and others make on farm products."

In Chicago, Earl C. Smith, vice president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, expressed doubt plan for applying price ceilings to livestock could be devised. It would require, he said, an army of untrained appraisers and administrators. (Turn to Page Eleven)

Many Present At Rites For Ridgway Man

Ridgway, Aug. 20.—(P)—State officials, business acquaintances and friends paid last respects to John M. Flynn, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association and former veteran legislator, at a requiem high mass in St. Leo's church here today.

Among those present were Governor Arthur H. James; James F. Torrance, secretary of property and supplies; and Mrs. Torrance; former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy; Justice William Parker of the state supreme court; Superior Court Judge and Mrs. William Hirt; George Mason Owlett, former state senator; James Coyne, James Duff and John F. Casey, all of Pittsburgh. (Turn to Page Six)

Soviet Forces Reported to Be Holding Doggedly in Battle for Stalin-grad

HEAVY TOLL IS TAKEN

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Moscow, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Red army has taken the initiative in battles developing on four key central Russian fronts along the 400 miles from Bryansk to Lake Ilmen while holding doggedly before Stalingrad and in the Caucasus, battlefield dispatches reported today.

Centers of the Russian attack were listed as the Bryansk front, 210 miles southwest of Moscow; the salient 130 miles west of Moscow in the Vyazma area; the Kalinin-Rzhev salient, 130 miles northwest of the capital; and the Lake Ilmen front south of Leningrad.

No complete details of the central campaigns were given, but the Russians said they had taken a heavy toll of garrison forces left to man the central and northern battle-line while the Nazis massed their greatest strength for the Don bend and Caucasus offensive.

The Soviet government disclosed today that German troops had crossed the elbow of the Don in their drive upon Stalingrad from the west, but said all were "completely wiped out."

Taking advantage of the concentration of German forces in the south, Russian troops were reported holding the initiative with a series of sharp assaults along a line of more than 400 miles from the Bryansk front to Lake Ilmen. (Turn to Page Ten)

Media Slugger Still Sought

Media, Aug. 20.—(P)—Police aided by a posse of armed soldiers combed swamps and woodlands today for a "handyman" wanted in the beating and disrobing of Miss Marise Saitto, pretty 19-year-old daughter of a former Italian nobleman.

The attack Tuesday was the latest of a series of assaults on women four of them unsolved slayings—which has terrorized this area.

Miss Saitto described her assailant as "a negro looking like a roughly clad giant." He confronted her when she was alone at home, tried to throw her on a divan and badly bruised her. She said her clothes were torn off in the struggle.

Her assailant fled when a household employee knocked on the front door.

THREE FROM PENN'A ARE KILLED IN CRASH

Boston, Aug. 20.—(P)—Three Pennsylvanians were among 16 men killed in the crash of an army transport plane against a mountain in Peru last Saturday, the First Service Command has announced.

They were Staff Sergeant Chas. M. Scott, co-pilot, York; Corporal Frank A. Lastosky, Swoverville; and Corporal Alonzo S. Pearson, Windber.

and the Royal Navy smash the Luftwaffe in the fiercest and most dramatic air and sea battle of the war in the west.

For seven hours in the blue skies over Dieppe and on the glassy waters of the channel, Briton and German, airman and seaman, fought for the lives of thousands of American, Canadian and British soldiers who scrambled ashore this morning to storm the ancient port of Dieppe.

The result was a decisive Allied victory. (Turn to Page Eleven)

Tyrone Power and Joan Fontaine
In Thrilling Love Story
"THIS ABOVE ALL"

At the Library Theatre, Friday,
Saturday, Sunday

A truly great modern love story has been magnificently brought to the screen by Darryl F. Zanuck in his production of 20th Century-Fox's "This Above All" which opens Friday, Saturday, Sunday at the Library Theatre.

With all the power and emotional impact inherent in the famous Eric Knight novel carefully preserved for its movie audience,
"This Above All" bids fair to take its place among the screen epics of the decade. As he did in "How Green Was My Valley" and
"The Grapes of Wrath," Producer
Zanuck has given the film everything in the way of integrity.

Its stars, Tyrone Power and Joan Fontaine, in the principal roles of Clive Briggs and Prudence Cathaway, are admirably suited to their parts, and both of them bring to the screen all of the romance and beauty which made the novel such a best-seller.

HEROES

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Aug. 20—(P)—Two Pennsylvanians are among six air corps officers and men awaiting the soldier's medal for bravery. The six, according to the citation:

"Without hesitation dashed into flames in an attempt to rescue the pilot" after a naval plane crashed and caught fire.

After braving the risk of exploding ammunition, the group finally succeeded in recovering the body of the pilot, the citation continues. The Pennsylvanians are Pvt. Frank Tino, of Ambler, and Pvt. Michael V. Repko, of Portage.

For every aircraft built of new materials, the Royal Air Force gets 60 more built of salvaged aircraft.

TIMES TOPICS

SIPLE IS CAPTAIN

Dr. Paul Siple of Erie, who was geographer with Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd on three Antarctic expeditions, has been commissioned a captain in the army, according to an announcement by the War Department. He has been assigned to the quartermaster corps as climatic specialist and advisor on cold-weather clothing. He served in a similar capacity as a civilian last year.

HELD FOR FBI

Kurt Hans Gleinig, 31, a German citizen, is being held in the Venango county jail on a charge of trespass after being arrested in Oil City following Tuesday night's surprise blackout test by Sgt. William H. Colgrove, of the Pennsylvania Railroad detective force, and will be turned over to officers of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Gleinig was remanded to the county jail for a period of 20 days after being given a hearing. His arrest came about when he was observed loitering around the station plaza in Oil City. He was unable to produce a traveling permit as required of enemy aliens.

Obituary

HENRY L. LINDEMUTH
Funeral services in memory of Henry L. Lindemuth of West Hickory, who died Tuesday night at the Warren General Hospital, will be held from the family home at 2:30 p. m. Friday with the Rev. H. M. Stephenson, pastor of the West Hickory Methodist church, officiating. Interment will be in the Barnes cemetery.

Two Hundred Here Will Be Reclassified

Approximately two hundred men in Warren county are to be reclassified by Selective Service headquarters within the next three months as a result of the elimination of the 1-B classification, it was revealed today.

Selective Service headquarters in Washington yesterday announced abolishment of the "limited service" class. Men in this group will be rated as 1-A, the group free of any known physical defect, or placed in Class 4-F, comprising those totally unfit for service.

The reclassification, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington, will begin September 1st and will be completed January 1st.

During reclassification, Selective Service headquarters said, no more than one-fourth of the 1-B registrants in any local board will be placed in Class 1-A in any single month. After their induction, the army will determine whether to assign them to full or limited duties.

It was stated that local boards were cautioned that while physical deficiencies constituted the only basis for the original 1-B classification, the status of registrants may have changed and possible deferment for dependency, family relationship or occupation should be considered.

In Warren county, Local Board No. 1 has approximately 90 men classified as 1-B, while Local Board No. 2 has about 110 men in this category.

Man Control Center Here Every Night

Through the volunteer efforts of members of the staff, the Warren county control center, coordination point for the county defense system, is being manned each evening from eight to eleven o'clock, and this program will be carried out until further notice, it was stated today by Forrest Waite, commander.

Under the present plan, two women members of the staff are on duty each evening for the three-hour period. In addition, control center guards also are on duty during the period.

Among those who already have been working at the control center are the following: Mrs. Palmer Davis, Mrs. Bee Genge, Mrs. Mildred Carter, Dorothy Gary, Martha Branch, Georgia Spinney, Mrs. Helen Hagberg, Margaret Hughes, Mrs. Marjorie Daugherty, Mrs. Guy Johnson, Mary Hubley and Mrs. Jessie Davidson.

The schedule for the next several days is as follows:

Tonight—Ann Snyder and Mrs. Kathleen Hyatt.

Friday—Rose Maybank and Mrs. Ann Trusler.

Saturday—Mrs. Jennie Jackson and Margaret McCutchen.

Sunday—Sunny Lucia and Georgia Spinney.

Monday—Janet Ross and Martha Branch.

Tuesday—Mrs. Patricia Smith and Mary Gaughn.

Officials of the control center today called attention to the promptness of members of the staff in reporting when called to do so. In a recent test, it was stated, 16 members were called and within ten minutes there were enough women on hand to completely man the control center. A similar experience was encountered during the surprise blackout on Tuesday night.

Forester Is Commissioned In U. S. Navy

District Forester William H. Smith and Mrs. Smith returned yesterday from Washington, where Mr. Smith was commissioned lieutenant (jg) in the U. S. Naval Reserve on August 17, 1942.

Mr. Smith has been in charge of the Complanter Forest District of the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters, with headquarters in Warren, for the past three years. He graduated from Pennsylvania State College, Department of Forestry, in June, 1939, and has been with the State Department of Forests and Waters since that time.

Mr. Smith has not been assigned to active duty yet, but expects to be called about the middle of October. He expects to attend a naval indoctrination school somewhere in New England and upon completion of a two-months course will be assigned to aviation ground duty with the Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith expect to leave Warren about October 10th for short vacation before Mr. Smith leaves for active duty. Mrs. Smith came to Warren in 1941 and has been active in social and musical circles. Both have made many friends in the community during their residence in Warren.

LUNCHES

THAT WORK FOR WORKERS

"20 'Home Front' workers are required to keep a soldier at the front. Defense workers (men and women) need foods equally as nutritious and sustaining as the men in arms." —Office of Defense, Health and Welfare Service.

A good lunch should contain: Milk in food or drink, whole wheat bread or enriched bread; meat, cheese, eggs, or fish; at least one fruit; at least one vegetable; and something for in-between-meal nibbling.

SANDWICH SUGGESTIONS

A good sandwich should be moist enough to spread, dry enough not to make bread soggy. Use pickle, onion juice, catsup, and salad dressing to add moisture, flavor and interest.

SHERIFF'S SALE

By virtue of a writ of Fieri Facias issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Warren County and to me directed, there will be sold at the Court House in Warren Borough, Warren County, Pennsylvania, on

MONDAY, AUGUST 31, 1942 AT TWO O'CLOCK P. M. (eastern war time)

Parcel No. 1

All that certain piece, parcel or tract of land situate in Deerfield township, Warren County, Pennsylvania, being 150 acres of land in the J. Long Tract, formerly owned by J. A. Cheape, and being the same premises conveyed to Charles A. Cole and George Cole, by J. L. Hunter, and wife, by deed dated June 11, 1938, and recorded in the Office of Recorder of Deeds of Warren County, Pennsylvania, Deed Book 195, at page 299, and conveyed to Charles A. Cole and George Cole by William O. Bennett, Trustee in Bankruptcy of William Joseph Knupp, by deed dated May 24, 1939, and recorded in the Recorder's Office aforesaid in Deed Book 200, page 118, and the interest of Charles A. Cole having been conveyed to George H. Cole by Mary A. Cole, Administrator of the Estate of Charles A. Cole, deceased, by deed dated April 17, 1941, and recorded in the Recorder's Office aforesaid in Deed Book 205, at page 333.

Parcel No. 2

All that certain tract of land situate in Glade Township, Warren County, Pennsylvania, being a part of Warrant No. 5871 described as follows: BEGINNING at a post, the northwest corner of Warrant 5871, thence southerly along Warrant line 160 rods to center of said Warrant and lands formerly owned by one Brasington; thence east along the same 107 rods to lands formerly owned by one Malory; thence north along same 160 rods to Warrant line, and thence west along the north line of Warrant No. 5871 a distance of 107 rods to place of beginning.

EXCEPTING all the oil, gas and minerals, also the casing, tubing, rods in the wells on said premises, together with all lines, connected or belonging to said wells, together with free right to operate said premises for said oil, gas and minerals.

And further excepting from the operation hereof four (4) acres of the foregoing described land conveyed by George H. Cole, and wife, to O. M. Fairweather by deed dated August 3rd, 1939, and recorded in the Recorder's Office aforesaid in Deed Book 198, page 343, reference thereunto being had, the description of this exception will more fully and at large appear.

BEING the same premises, less exception last noted, conveyed to George H. Cole by A. J. Knupp, et al, by deed dated July 17, 1938, recorded in the Recorder's Office aforesaid in Deed Book 198, page 343, reference thereunto being had, the description of this exception will more fully and at large appear.

Having erected thereon one large barn.

Seized and taken in execution and will be sold at the property of George H. Cole at the suit of Warren Bank and Trust Company, William C. Stuart, Sheriff.

Kiwanis Club Enjoys Talks At Luncheon

Members of the Warren Kiwanis Club, at their weekly luncheon meeting, held Wednesday noon at the Carver Hotel, enjoyed a very interesting talk by William Gallup, of Bradford, lieutenant governor for Division One of Pennsylvania district for Kiwanis International.

In his talk, Mr. Gallup outlined the Kiwanis organization from the international office to the local clubs. He spoke of the work which is to be done and urged each member to do his part.

Members of the club also enjoyed a short talk by a former member, Lt. Col. P. J. Stevenson, who is stationed on the east coast.

President H. D. Baker announced a divisional conference to be held at the Oakland Beach Hotel, Conneaut Lake, on September 2.

Guests at yesterday's meeting, in addition to Mr. Gallup and Lt. Col. Stevenson, included J. K. Reitter and Louis Peckan of Ford City; Vedder White and C. J. Frey, of Erie; Arthur Soranson and Ralph W. Johnson, of Jamestown, N. Y.; and Theodore Van Velsor, representative of the Free Netherlands government, now located here.

Plan Concert By National Forge Group

The National Forge band will make its second public appearance in Youngsville on Thursday evening, August 27th, at 7:30 o'clock when it will present a concert of military, classical and novelty numbers. It was announced today.

The Forge band was organized last spring by a group of musically-minded employees of the National Forge and Ordnance Company at Irvine. Elmer Sederburg, a National Forge employee and member of the Warren V. F. W. band, assumed direction and the organization was and largely responsible for the group. He is now acting in capacity of co-director of the band.

During the summer months the band has been under the tutelage of Harry Summers, well known director of the Warren High School music organizations.

The band made its first appearance in the Decoration Day parade in Youngsville last spring. Since that time the band has enlarged its membership greatly and has vastly improved its appearance.

Although the Youngsville concert will be the first in which the entire band will appear in full uniform, many of its members have been seen by the public in the mass band concerts presented in Warren this summer.

The Youngsville concert will be held on the high school lawn and arrangements have been made to move the concert into the Youngsville High School auditorium in case of rain. There will be no admission charge for the concert.

The program for the evening will be announced at a later date.

Columbus Hi Classes Will Be Suspended

Faced with an acute shortage of teachers, school directors of Columbus township have decided to suspend high school classes and to send all high school students to Corry High School for the 1942-43 term.

The action, taken at a special meeting of the board Monday evening, follows a series of meetings with Corry directors and a mass meeting of Columbus township township taxpayers and parents last week, when such action was approved if the necessary teachers were not available to continue operation at Columbus.

The Columbus directors also decided to open the Columbus school September 1st to coincide with the opening of the Corry schools.

PREVIEW OF SECOND FRONT

(By Glenn Babb, War Analyst for Wide World and Times-Mirror)
We have had our preview of the second front. Yesterday forces of the western United Nations, the United States, Canada, Britain and the fighting French, broke into the defenses of Naziland at Dieppe, maintained themselves for nine hours on the soil of Adolf Hitler's new Europe and returned to base on schedule.

For the first time an Allied landing on the continent has been carried out under the conditions that will obtain when the Commandos and Rangers are followed by the great transport fleets filled with the army of Europe's liberation.

Goebbels' propaganda machine, trying to convince the Germans and their slave peoples that Dieppe was the real thing and that it failed disastrously, pictured a mythical transport fleet lying offshore in the channel mists yesterday. But that was only a figment of the Goebbels imagination; when it becomes reality the Nazis will have to invent new myths to explain the opening of a new and dreaded phase of the war.

Dieppe was Dunkerque in reverse. It showed vividly how greatly the war situation has changed since the black days of June, 1940 for not even the dangerous position of the Russians in the Caucasus or the threat to Suez can obscure the growing accumulation of evidence that the initiative is passing from Hitler's hands to the forces bent on his destruction.

Yesterday's landing was admittedly costly. The Canadian people, whose sons formed the bulk of the landing forces—grimly welcoming the chance after two years of waiting and preparation—have been warned by their government to expect heavy casualties.

The layman may ask for the justification of this expenditure of life and costly weapons. It is simply that so tremendously important an operation as the invasion of Naziland can not be undertaken without every bit of knowledge and experience that can be gathered—knowledge of the enemy's permanent fortifications and tactical dispositions and plans, experience of what the enterprise requires in the way of weapons, manpower and training. The Dieppe raid was invaluable in its contribution to the Allies' fund of military wisdom.

PLAYGROUNDS CLOSING

Reminding that fall is almost at hand, one of the busiest and most enjoyable seasons Warren playgrounds have experienced since they were instituted, is rapidly coming to a close.

The efficient staff in charge of the playgrounds and the programs arranged since they were opened early in the summer, is to be commended for the fascinating and health-giving entertainment furnished the thousands of children who have taken part in them.

An interesting program is scheduled for the high school auditorium this evening when a field representative of the Price Administration will be present to explain methods planned to control inflation.

Justice Douglas of the U. S. Supreme Court advises newspapers to report facts truly and headline them clearly. O. K. That's what they're doing, to the best of their ability.

Property owners along Pennsylvania avenue better get busy and trim trees in front of their respective lots unless they want the borough to do it at some added expense.

Warren motorists who drive more than forty miles an hour will not be bugged, but neither will they get new tires.

The rough edges are being worn off in the test blackouts—and it is apparent they are to become regular when winter comes.

It's good news to learn that another of those popular outdoor concerts is being planned for the Beaty school lawn Sunday, August 30th.

About time to revive that ancient and tuneful masterpiece "Yes, We Have No Bananas Today!"

No matter how expensive living becomes, it's always worth more.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — He's the Army's only no-dollar-a-year man.

If you went back through Army annals to the days when men fought for glory or convictions and not for booty or pay, you might find his equal. But if you searched the annals of the U. S. supreme court, you would never find a justice who "took a vacation" to join the armed forces as he did.

I'm talking about bushy-browed, 52-year-old Frank Murphy, the bachelor associate justice who is on active duty as a lieutenant colonel in the tank corps on southern maneuvers, following weeks of training at Fort Benning, Ga.

Lieut.-Col. Murphy's case is unique for a number of reasons. When he stepped down from the supreme court bench for the summer adjournment, he announced that he would return to the Army (he was a captain in the 85th division in World War I). He said he had wanted to get back into uniform ever since December 7. He said he hoped to continue in the armed forces "for the duration."

THIS immediately raised a question: Would he resign from the court? No. He would just take leave. Whether he could was a legal question which Justice Murphy must have recognized immediately for he let it be known soon after that he might only stay with the Army until the court meets again in the fall.

The Department of Justice (in which Murphy was, once Attorney General) has issued a memorandum defining the justice's position—probably the only time that the department was ever called upon to determine the status of a member of the supreme court. The decision (See 62 Title 5, Federal Statutes) was easy. The justice could stay with the Army or stay with the court. He couldn't do both. The memorandum hasn't been made public. It probably won't. There's really no need. In Army circles, it is a foregone conclusion that come October, when the supreme court reconvenes, Lieut. Col. Frank Murphy (like members of Congress in the armed forces who were ordered back to legislative duties by President Roosevelt) will be placed on the Army's inactive list.

HOWEVER, if the justice quit the Army tomorrow, he would already have written a chapter in Supreme Court history. When the court was called in extra-curricular session to hear the habeas corpus pleas of seven of the eight Nazi saboteurs recently convicted, Associate Justice Murphy was the only member who had to absent himself—the decision too much involved the Army.

Why, the Department of Justice wrote its memorandum in Justice Murphy's case, it was only necessary to reshuffle one it had written a few weeks before in the case of Third U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals Judge William Clark, of Princeton, N. J., who actually stepped down from his lifetime judgeship to enter the Army.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — What a break Hollywood got when the Marines invaded the Solomons. They were all set for a national release of their new picture, "Wake Island," which the U. S. Marines supervised, when the headlines broke. Locally, at least, Marine enlistment stations are overcrowded. Bands blare the traditional song of the Marines. . . . And Paramount comes up with a day-by-day log of the last days on Wake that ended with Devereaux's terse, cryptic farewell announcement by radio: "Enemy has landed; issue is in doubt."

I've seen the picture and I've talked to General Robert Livingston Denig, U.S.M.C., who expressed himself as well pleased with it. It was filmed under the supervision of high ranking Marine officers. It's action is authentic. It is all there, bomb for bomb and stick for stick, as we know the story from the dispatches and from the official reports that were flown out of Wake on a naval plane two days before the fall. I can see old Marines jutting out their chests just a mile further after they jam the doings of their outfit in this last ditch scrap.

ONE of the things the Marines had to be careful of—in this picture—was whether or not Paramount's actors could die like Marines. That is, without hamming it up too thick. When a man's hit, he goes down, and as a rule he seldom flails his arms, twirls in mid-air, crosses himself, and kisses his sweetheart's picture before he passes on. General Denig, who has seen men die in more than one war, and who would need an extra shirt front to provide space for all his medals, if he chose to wear them, gives Hollywood the okay of this one. He was pleased. So were all the Marine biggies who were instrumental in the film, as a document on a great last-ditch fight that won more glory than half a dozen victories.

INCIDENTALLY, like the Wake Marines who fought the first action of the war after Pearl Harbor for the U. S., the Marines were also first in the First World War. Back in '17 a detail of 15 Marines, on orders of President Wilson, seized the German warship Cormoran, which had been interned in Guam several months previously. En route to the ship they were compelled to fire across the bow of a cutter carrying German naval officers, to bring about the surrender of those men. It preceded by six months the next shot fired by Americans—this time in France—in World War No. 1.

Though the official day-by-day log is faithfully adhered to in "Wake Island," the names of the chief characters are fictional. For instance, the counterpart of Major James Patrick Devereaux, who was in command at Wake, is the actor Brian Donlevy who, as Major Caton, does a cheery, bang-up job.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From the Warren Evening Times

In 1923
The gathering of the Knights of Pythias in Warren during the third week of August, 1923, will be a much larger affair than ordinarily imagined and it is estimated that fully 1,000 delegates will be present.

Goaded to desperation by two defeats at the hands of their "kid" rivals, the Independents Saturday and yesterday won the third and fourth games of the big city series to even the count at two apiece.

Victor Peterson, a graduate of the local high school in the class of 1919 and now a member of the class of 1923 at Northwestern College, Nepeville, Ill., occupied the pulpit of the First Evangelical church yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rankin returned Saturday from Chambersburg, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Davidson Kennedy.

Dr. Paul Stewart has returned from his vacation, spent with the Conewango Fishing Club at Rutherford, Glen, Canada.

Mrs. Melville Ostertag, son Junior, and sister, Miss Ellen Driscoll, returned Saturday from a vacation trip to New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

In 1932
At a meeting of officers and directors of the Warren Lions Club, held last evening at the home of the president, George Frantz, plans were made for a picnic to be held in the near future.

The Rev. H. W. Kaebnick and family, of Somerset, Pa., have arrived in Warren to spend a few days with relatives and friends. They were accompanied here by Mrs. Ackert and daughter, Miss Ruth, who have been their guests for a week, and by Rev. and Mrs. Strehr, of Johnstown.

Mrs. M. K. Carmichael and daughter, Susan, of Washington, Pa., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Lesser, 122 Water street.

Physicians of the county will meet Monday afternoon at the Conewango Club for their August meeting. Dr. F. H. Clark, of Jamestown, will be speaker and hosts will be Drs. Cashman, Chapman, Condit and Durham.

With fair weather in prospect, it is expected that a large number will attend the concert by the Shrine Band of Erie at the Elks Club here this evening.

SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, Aug. 18—Rev. Carl Perrin baptized Dale Sue Ewer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ewer, of Rochester, N. Y., at the morning service at the Presbyterian church. In the afternoon at the home of Miss Josephine Ricker, Rev. Perrin baptized two children of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ricker, of Rochester, N. Y., Chas. Edwin Ricker and Robert Allen Ashworth.

Rev. and Mrs. Perrin and daughter Ruth are spending two weeks at a cottage near Chautauqua.

Mrs. Merle Deveraux and Mrs. Sam Johnson have returned from Altoona, where the former was delegate to the Townsend convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Johnson also attended the convention, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Josephine Ricker entertained at a family dinner party Sunday.

Much Damage Results From Flash Floods

Thunderstorms which raged over western New York and Pennsylvania on July 17 and 18 and caused damage ranging from $10,000 to $15,000,000, according to a report by the Department of Interior in Washington, D. C.

In its water resources review for July, the department said the storms over the upper Allegheny river basin brought rains exceeding 8 inches over 700 square miles and 6 inches over 1,000 square miles in the short space of 14 hours.

The report: "At Raymond, Pa., 2.5 inches of rain fell in one hour between 11 p. m. and midnight of July 17 and 2.58 inches in two hours during the morning of July 18. Damage to railroads, highways, telephone, telegraph and power lines was extensive.

"In Emporium, Pa., on the Sinnemahoning creek, a tributary of the Susquehanna river, 60 per cent of the town was flooded; 80 per cent of Austin, Pa., was flooded; at Coudersport, Pa., 50 per cent of the business area and 25 per cent of the residential area was flooded; at Port Allegany, Pa., 100 per cent of the business area and 50 per cent of the residential area was flooded.

"The crest of the Allegheny river at Larabee, Pa., was 24 feet, in comparison with the previous maximum record of 17.6 feet in November, 1927, when the discharge was 8,210 C. F. S.

"The Allegheny reached a record-breaking stage of 14.55 feet at Red House, N. Y., with a measured crest discharge of 45,300 C. F. S. The previous maximum occurred in March 1910, discharging 41,000 C. F. S. Downstream on the Allegheny river at Kinzua, Pa., the July 1942 crest was 17.70 feet. The crest in the March 1936 flood at this point was 16.69 feet.

"The Genesee river at Scio, N. Y., crested on July 18 at 9.74 feet with a corresponding discharge of 9,730 C. F. S. The maximum of record occurred in May 1919, discharging 10,600 C. F. S. The Clarion river at Ridgway, Pa., reached a crest of 16.4 feet. In March 1936 the crest at Ridgway was 14 feet."

Pilots forced down at sea can press the trigger on a small canister and release an orange cloud of smoke that will last for an hour or more, gradually increasing in density.

day. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ewer and family and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ricker and family of Rochester, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ricker and family of Jamestown.

Diantha Chestnutt, of Warren, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sherrard and family.

Ralph Andersen, who has been ill the past four months, has returned to his employment as druggist in Jamestown.

Mrs. C. H. Sanders is ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Saunders.

Edward Hamilton, of Erie, was a recent guest of his aunt, Miss Mary Hamilton. He is leaving soon to enter service.

ROUSCH TRANSFERRED

Transfer of Lieut. Herman J. Rousch, who has been in charge of the Lawrence Park barracks of the state motor police since Erie county was made a troop headquarters, to Greensburg was announced late Tuesday by Col. Lynn G. Adams, motor police commissioner. Date for the transfer was not announced.

RENTS FROZEN

According to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington today, the Office of Price Administration has ordered residential rents in 38 defense-rental areas "frozen" at the March 1 level effective September 1. Included among the areas listed is the Meadville-Titusville district. Price Administrator Leon Henderson said the new action might be terminated if a move against high rents in areas containing ordnance plants.

Asks Farmers To Be Ready For Workers

Farmers who are entered in the 1942 AAA program are asked to keep on the "alert" for a visit from their AAA community committee-man, in order that the latter's time may be saved, and tires and gasoline, according to Mr. M. L. Armitage, chairman of the Warren County Agricultural Conservation Committee.

Approximately 2,400 committee-men or their assistants are carrying out a compliance check of Pennsylvania farms entered in the 1942 government program, inspecting allotment acreages and soil conservation practices, Mr. Armitage said. Farmers can help save a committee-man's time; and, many times, a return trip to a farm, if they have in mind what soil conservation practices they have carried out and where, he said. Also, farmers should have receipts at hand, if possible, of lime and superphosphate; and grass seed. All conservation practices must be completed before September 1.

"I'm glad I need orange juice!"

Everyone likes its flavor
...is helped by its vitamins!

What other food combines such delicious taste with such a wealth of healthful vitamins and minerals?

A BIG glass of orange juice gives you valuable amounts of vitamins A, B₁ and C, calcium, and other essential minerals. It's the best practical way to get the large supply of vitamin C you need every day! Have it regularly at breakfast.

Put orange-vitamins in lunch boxes too—in summer salads and sugar-savory desserts. California oranges are easy to peel, slice and section.

for payment in the 1942 farm program. "Farmers should know that their committee-man is a busy farmer," Mr. Armitage commented. "Farm help is scarce and the committee-man is ordinarily anxious to get back to his own farm. Farmers should be willing to help to the extent of having a familiarity with the AAA program on their own farms, and be glad to help checking field measurements." Methods of checking compliance have been streamlined this year, Mr. Armitage said. A record is kept only of fields on which allotment crops have been planted or soil conservation practices have been done. At the time of the committee-man's visit, the farmer might p his order for conservation materials to use in the 1943 program, Armitage suggested. Signing crop insurance application may well be done at this time, too, said.

Erie Girl is Bride Of Charles P. Sage

The ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Helen Jane Young, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Young, of Erie, and Charles Philip Sage, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sage, of Tidouche, took place in the bride's home at high noon August 11, with the Rev. George R. Braun, pastor of Simpson Methodist church officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory faille taffeta made with basque waist, long sleeves and full skirt forming a train. The yoke and cuffs were of Chantilly lace and her veil of lace was that worn by her great-grandmother, Margaret Stuart, when she married James Patrick Young in Elgin, Scotland, in 1833. It was held in place with orange blossoms and her colonial bouquet of white roses, tuberoses and bouvardia was centered with an orchid.

Miss Ida Lorraine Cummings, her only attendant, wore pink silk organza, with sweetheart neckline, tucked lace bodice, puffed sleeves and billowing skirt. A shoulder veil fell from a matching hat and she carried a colonial bouquet of variegated flowers.

Louis J. Schneberger was best man.

A reception followed in the Young home and at two o'clock a wedding luncheon was served for the bridal party at the Pussy Willow Tea Room.

Following a western wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Sage will make their home at 3 Elm street, Tidouche, where the bridegroom is associated with his father in the Sage Funeral Home. He is a graduate of Tidouche High School and the Cincinnati College of Engineering. His bride was graduated from Erie Academy High School and received her A. B. degree from Mercyhurst College. Later she taught English in Spartansburg High School.

Women Golfers Are After Championship

The Class A winner in the qualifying round of the 1942 women's championship at the Conewango Valley Country Club is Mrs. Harold Banghart, several times champion and defender of the 1942 championship. Winner for Class B is Mrs. Arthur Johnson, newcomer to the women's ranks this year.

Pairings for the first round in the championship match, to be played within the next few days, are as follows:

First flight—Mrs. Banghart-Mrs. Plummer Printz; Mrs. David Beatty-Mrs. B. H. McLachlan; Mrs. John L. Blair-Mrs. J. L. Chapman; Mrs. Joan Blair Hoyer-Mrs. Blanche Edwards.

Second flight—Mrs. Arthur Johnson-Mrs. L. C. Stickle; Mrs. Folmer Yerg; Mrs. George Calderwood-Mrs. Miss Frances Young-Mrs. Burr Walker.

Mrs. Chapman was winner of the link on Wednesday.

Officers Reelected By Concert Members

Meeting in the Warren Conservatory of Music last evening, members of the executive committee of the Warren Concert Association made plans for the conduct of this year's annual membership campaign, to be staged the latter part of September.

Officers of the association were reelected to serve for another year and are as follows: President, Dr. LeRoy B. Campbell; vice president, Mrs. Allie Russell and Mrs. W. M. Robertson; secretary, Mrs. T. H. Conway; treasurer, Arthur Langdon; campaign chairman, Lyle N. Schuler.

Artist possibilities for the coming season and details of the membership canvass were discussed, also.

Special Inducement For Mission Units

The annual Institute of World Missions is being conducted at Chautauqua Institution next week, concluding on Friday. Among the outstanding speakers are Dr. Charles Leber and Dr. George P. Howard.

Dr. Leber is secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and recently returned from a round-the-world missionary journey. Dr. Howard is well known as an author, lecturer and evangelist to student classes in South America.

Missionary organizations of Warren and vicinity have received from Chautauqua Institution a reduced rate for all day Wednesday, to be given to all members of missionary organizations and interested friends who accompany them.

It is anticipated that many women will take advantage of this opportunity of spending the day at Chautauqua, hearing the missionary speakers during the day and attending the final concert by the symphony orchestra in the evening.

PRESIDENT'S CUP EVENT SATURDAY

It was announced today that Conewango Valley Country Club golfers will engage in an 18-hole medal play tournament Saturday in quest of the President's Cup, a coveted award which has been in retirement for some time.

What used to be an annual affair and a feature of the golfing season each year at the club will be revived this weekend after the President's Cup tourney has been dead for the past six or seven seasons.

A large field of club linksmen is expected to take part in the tournament.

Secrets of German Coastal Defenses Studied by Allies

London advices said the entire machinery of the German defense plan in the west apparently was set into frenzied motion, and declared the Allies not only achieved every major goal but completed the vast operation within six minutes of schedule.

Power-driven steel barges and other ships returned to British bases throughout the night, bringing the tired but elated troops home. Many still had their faces daubed with Indian-style camouflage of green, black and yellow paint for the daylight assault.

The last wounded Commandos were brought ashore this morning, while squadrons of RAF Spitfires and Hurricanes kept vigil overhead and other fighter planes streaked across the channel in the direction of Dieppe.

Losses in killed and wounded were admittedly severe, as had been expected for so daring an attack against the gun-studded Nazi coast, but the British said there was no confirmation of the German claim that "hundreds" had been killed. 1,500 prisoners captured and 28 armored cars destroyed. Some tanks, used for the first time by Commandos, were known to have been lost.

Also without confirmation, the Nazis listed three destroyers, two torpedo boats and four transports as Allied sea losses.

While the Germans sought to picture the raid as a second-front invasion attempt ending in disaster, the British radio broadcast repeated warnings to the French people throughout yesterday that it was not yet "the day of liberation" and told them not to rise in revolt.

It constituted the first official mention of operations against Japanese naval units in the Solomon Islands area since the battle in which the Canberra was lost almost two weeks ago.

The Japanese fleet was reported to have withdrawn northward after that engagement and there has been considerable unofficial speculation concerning its whereabouts.

In addition to the attack on the enemy naval units, Allied bombers made a low altitude raid yesterday in Timor, far to the northwest of Australia, MacArthur's headquarters reported.

WILLKIE LUNCHING AT WHITE HOUSE TODAY

Washington, Aug. 20.—(P)—Wendell L. Willkie, 1940 Republican presidential nominee, had a luncheon appointment with President Roosevelt today, presumably to discuss plans for a trip to some of the major fighting areas abroad.

Willkie discussed the projected journey with the chief executive recently, but indicated no decision had been reached on whether he would make it.

Without Painful Backache Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passage with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

THE OLD SHELL GAME

"Whetstone-Tech seems unbeatable this year."

BANK SHOTS

BY FLOYD PASSINGER, Sports Editor

Cuff Notes . . . Bowling alleys throughout the nation are having a hard time getting new pins for the coming season, and locally the situation, while it isn't at its worst, isn't good either. . . The Arcade boasts two sets of the precious sticks and has been "promised" more, but just when they're supposed to arrive is not known. The PBC relates a similar situation, and league bowlers will have to put up with well worn woods this winter, whether they like it or not. . . Hope they don't raise as big a fuss for new pins as diamond dusters did for new baseballs, also scarce, during the Sunset League season. . . One bright item on the pin situation, however, is the fact that old pins are being collected and put through a process which make them good as new. . . About one-fourth as much new wood as is needed for a complete pin is taken, the old pin is split lengthwise with the new wood inserted. . . Then, the entire subject is put in a lathe, made regulation size, sanded and finally balanced, making a competent pin of an old one with a little new wood added. . . Hans Lobert's Philite Phils, it seems, have a secret ambition not to get involved in a win streak, even if they could, because they're known in the past 27 years—the cellar championship. . . They won the N. L. crown way back in 1915. . . The advance ticket sale has gone over big, according to a quick check-up this morning, and it looks, therefore, as though at least 500 fans will show their faces inside Russell Field tonight if bad weather doesn't step in and knock this USO benefit game for a loop. . . Come on out and join the fun. . . If you haven't a ticket, they'll be available at the gate. . .

Quickies . . . Your correspondent was trapped in the Arcade Recreation during Tuesday night's blackout and had to marvel at the way windows are sealed so that the alleys may remain lit, yet no light penetrates through the blinds and is visible from the outside. . . It took Thad Lawson and his workers about two minutes to install the special blackout screens, made to order for the windows, and they fit perfectly, doing a swell job. . . While mentioning this, we might add that both public alleys houses in this community are well equipped so that keepers can continue a game during a blackout. . . The Penn Bowling Center, with only two large windows in the front of the upstairs establishment, have drapes which seal the light where it should be, and these can easily be fastened so that no illumination escapes into the darkness outside. . . Bowl during future blackout tests, it's safe—if you remember to turn out the mazdas at home before you go kegging. . . Still nothing definite about the Red Jackets, but a feeler for opposition will be sent shortly to the Pittsburgh area where, we're told, the usual swarm of sandlot teams Grade A will be in action, despite war restrictions, this fall. . . Last home game of the season is on deck this Sunday at Wilder Field for the Forgers. . . And it will be the only appearance of the Meadville Pioneers on the Irving lot this summer. . . Better plan to see that team—it's better than the records show. . .

College Grid Contests Will Retain Color

BY HAROLD CLAASSEN
New York, Aug. 20.—(P)—Although college footballers by the hundreds have entered the armed services, competent coaches promise that you'll get your money's worth each time you plunk down $3.30 for a seat on the 50-yard line this fall. . . Most of the mentors acknowledge that the polish and finesse of former years may be lacking in a slight way but all agree, in a survey made by the Associated Press, that the spectacular will become much more common and that upsets will be lurking behind every goal post. . . Rex Enright of South Carolina University says he expects a slight drop in the caliber of play but "that it will not be apparent to the general public because of the evenness. There will be more variance in the quality of play from week to week because of poor reserves and the use of freshmen and this will mean more upsets." . . Another coach compared the drop in quality with a track meet, declaring that the average fan "can't tell the difference between a 4:08 and a 4:12 one-mile run without a stop watch." . . Many conferences, led by the Big Three of Yale, Harvard and Princeton, will use freshmen for forecasting fumbles and surprise touchdowns. . .

S-W TEAM IN 11-1 VICTORY OVER CASEYS

By the Associated Press

The Struthers-Weils team of the City Softball League clinched another victory and a playoff spot against the Recreation Center, first half winners, in this year's series to be played later this month, by way of an easy 11-1 victory over the Knights of Columbus team last night on the west side diamond. . . "Boogy" Hahn smacked out a home run for the winners who scored three times in the first inning, seven times in the third, and once more in the fourth, in a game which was called after the seventh stanza as daylight turned into darkness. . . The score for the Casey was made in the second inning. . . The losers were limited to three blows through the contest by Tony Bonavita, who pitched the best game he's realized this summer. Scallise was the losing pitcher, tagged for 16 hits, eight of which were doubles, one a triple and another a circuit clout. . . The official league season is expected to end tonight. . . Batteries—Bonavita and Cruickshank, Scallise and Solomon, Columbus. . .

WILDERNESS GIRL

By LETA ZOE ADAMS

YESTERDAY—Sandy Morse has come to Onha determined to enter the Forbidden Land, and find the secret key to the books of Mayan history. But nobody seems to know much about the dangerous country except a girl named Tyra Fleming, and now Sandy is trying to find her. There is a complication—Helen Brotherton, wealthy widow, is financing Sandy's expedition, and Helen has insisted on accompanying him. . .

Chapter Four

"Call Me Helen"

SANDY TOOK to his feet, and strode off toward his room. As he passed an open door a voice called sweetly, "Oh Sandy! Come here and tell me about it." He stepped through the open door. . . Helen Brotherton lay in a hammock, alluring feminine in a thin white negligee. She was a lovely woman, with fair, blooming skin and soft honey-colored hair. Gil said she had been some kind of show girl when Lang Brotherton took a fancy to her. But since she never mentioned that part of her life no one else mentioned it either. Her marriage to Lang Brotherton had obviously been another rich-old-man-young-girl affair. However, so far as anyone knew, she had made him a docile wife as long as he lived. . . "There isn't much to report. Mrs. Brotherton," he said stiffly. Her cornflower-blue eyes widened. "Do call me Helen, won't you, Sandy? I've asked you so often. And since we're going to be together a long time don't you think it sounds ridiculous to keep calling me 'Mrs. Brotherton'?" "Maybe it does," Sandy achieved an abortive smile. . . She raised herself in the hammock so that a fold of the negligee fell back from her arm to expose the lovely curving line. "You look hot and uncomfortable, Sandy. Why don't you sit down and order an iced drink?" Sandy winced. She seemed to have a talent for saying the wrong thing to him. . . "Thanks, no," he answered shortly. "You wanted to know about the result of my talk with McIntyre?" "Only I do wish you'd make yourself comfortable while you're telling me about it." "And I wish you'd . . ." Sandy put a brake on his tongue quickly enough to prevent the rest of the words from tumbling forth. What he had been about to say would have sounded childish and petty; and it would have been irrevocable. . . He ran a finger around his collar, loosening it. He'd have to conquer this sort of irritation, that was all. . . Helen was getting out of the hammock. She put her feet carefully on the floor and stood up. She came a step toward Sandy, her hand outstretched in a gesture of supplication. "Sandy, why don't you like me? What have I done?" Sandy shifted uneasily. All his instincts clamored for him to back away, but a small, shrewd voice whispered that it might mean an obliteration to his expedition if he obeyed his impulse. He hated that small voice but it was strong enough, nevertheless, to hold him there. . . "Why, you've done nothing. I don't know what you're talking about, anyhow," he mumbled, hedging. He felt, as he always did with Helen, that he was backed into a corner and could not escape. "I'm sure you do know what I'm talking about," Helen went on slowly, softly. "And Sandy, I don't dislike you. I never have. From the first moment I met you. I've thought you were about the grandest person I'd ever seen." Then Sandy did the only thing that seemed possible, at the moment. "Good God!" he muttered, and turning quickly, made for the open door. . .

TO THE FIESTA

GIL, Helen and Sandy were lingering over cigarettes that evening after dinner when McIntyre came toward them from the street. Sandy made the introductions and the big rancher heaved his bulk into a chair. . . "I have located Miss Fleming. She is staying at the home of Senor de Urraza and his wife, Josefa. However, when I sent my messenger, she was not in. She is at the fiesta. If you want to come with me, we may be able to find her." "Want me to string along, chief?" Gil inquired. "Since it's a fiesta, I don't see why we can't all go," Sandy said. He smiled at Helen as he spoke with some vague idea of making up for his rudeness of the afternoon. . . She brightened visibly when he smiled. "That would be so nice. Must I change, Mr. McIntyre?" McIntyre glanced at her tailored linen frock and said gallantly that she was perfect as she was. Then they all had a drink—something with the fiery tequila for a base—and in that slightly festive mood were ready. . . The village streets presented a sharp contrast to that earlier hour when Sandy walked through them. The magic of the fiesta and night had awakened the city to life. . . McIntyre explained that on account of the frequent torrential rains it was necessary to hold their fiestas under cover. For that purpose a long, thatched ramada had been built. . .

TYRA FLEMING

THEY had not gone many steps before they were halted by a brace of Tehuanos, friends of McIntyre. After the elaborate introductions the Tehuanos insisted that the strangers drink a cup of mescal. . . "Since we have been asked it would be bad manners to refuse," McIntyre told Sandy. "But this Miss Fleming, do you see her?" Sandy asked, as she shouldered their way to one of the booths. "Not yet, but there is plenty of time." . . As they reached the cleared dancing space. Now the guitars and drums were twanging and banging out a highly fanciful version of a fox-trot that Sandy had heard in the States many years before. . . "Our civilization hasn't touched them much," McIntyre was saying, then he broke off. "I think that is Miss Fleming, in native dress, dancing with the young Tehuano in the red sash." . . Sandy tried to follow, through the spinning figures, the couple McIntyre pointed out. For no reason that he could define his pulse stepped up a beat. The girl was turned away from him now but there was something in the way she danced with head thrown back and body held erect which would have arrested his attention even if he had not been interested in watching for her. . . Then she related and he caught a flash of laughing eyes in a frame of brown hair tied with a red scarf. His reaction was: "Why, she's young!" Somehow he had visualized her as a middle-aged spinster with a long nose and a hatchet jaw. . . Again she revolved in the maze of dancers, closer this time. She was apparently answering something her partner had said for she shook her head vigorously, setting a pair of long, hammered gold earrings swaying. Her lips were widened in an ecstatic smile, her face aglow. Obviously she was having an exceedingly good time. "Miss Fleming," McIntyre called. . . She glanced over her shoulder and fluttered a hand in recognition. Around she went again, almost lost to view among the whirling figures. . . Helen said in a detached voice, "She's very pretty." "Uh?" McIntyre appeared to come out of a coma. "Yes, yes—of course. Hardly a girl you'd expect to find tramping around a jungle, eh?" . . . To be continued

Soviet Army Takes Initiative in Four Central Red Fronts

The army newspaper Red Star said the invaders were suffering great losses in these operations, southwest, west and northwest of Moscow.
While Red army men on the steppes between the Don and the Volga thus were reported to have accounted for Nazi bridgeheads, Russians withdrew again in the battle of the western Caucasus behind screening cavalry counterattacks and the Kuban city of Krasnodar was left in the hands of the Germans.
Details of the trans-Don engagement were few, but the Soviet information bureau said that "in one sector alone, about 17 enemy tanks were destroyed and more than 500 Germans were killed."
Several Russian counterattacks were launched in the area of Kletska, within the Don bend 80 miles northwest of Stalingrad, and seven enemy tanks were destroyed and a German infantry battalion was routed, it was announced.
More than 2,000 Germans were reported killed and 79 tanks destroyed or burned out in action yesterday and the communique said 5,500 Germans were slain and Nazi material heavily damaged during the last five days about Voronezh, a battle-scarred city on the upper Don.
The German crossing of the Don elbow, one objective of a campaign launched by Field Marshal Fedor Von Bock from the Kursk-Kharkov front June 28, was reported made southeast of Kletska.
The communique report that Soviet soldiers had killed or rounded up all who made the thrust implied that they had regained full mastery of the east bank of the Don in the defense of western approaches to Stalingrad, industrial and shipping center on the Volga.
Southwest of Stalingrad, a see-saw battle was reported in progress for a railway station on the Caucasian line from Kotelnikowski, 95 miles away.

Short Labor Areas Getting War Projects

labor supply factor in awarding contracts.
"Effective utilization of the national manpower requires that additional war work should be directed towards areas with adequate labor supply and away from areas where labor shortages exist or impend," McNutt said in a statement.
"To increase contracts and labor demand in shortage areas will inevitably result in excessive migration, aggravated housing problems, increased pressure on overcrowded transportation and other community facilities. x x x
"The result may well be inability to meet delivery dates."
"Any workers who are now being laid off will be needed at their old jobs or in new war jobs as soon as production problems responsible have been worked out. In no sense can they be considered an addition to the total available labor force."
Engineers say that the lighter the oil the less motor drag and the more miles per gallon on gasoline.

Dem Meeting in Brooklyn in Deadlock

General John J. Bennett, Jr.,—and declared "we are not compromising."
Supporters of U. S. Senator James M. Mead, claiming more than the nomination requirement of 508 delegates for the president's choice, were equally determined to force the party's first convention roll call on a governorship nomination in 24 years. Previously, a nominee had been agreed on at preliminary conferences of party leaders.
The determination on both sides to fight it out persisted despite various efforts for party peace that have included recommendations by the president for a compromise, without mention of names, and advancement privately of alternate candidates by the Mead forces.
